FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1899.

The National House Committee on Rivers and Harbors were voting on the Kentucky river this week.

With all the Republican victories of this fall there were not enough to result in the gain of even one United States Senator for them.

Carter Harrison will not $100,000 to charitable institutions. His incoming $160,000 is to be divided equally among his four children at the end of two years.

The President has appointed J.
Scott Harrison, a brother of ex-President Harrison, Surveyor of Customs at Kansas City. Mr. Harrison is a good Democrat, refusing to accept office under his brother, and is a man of good business qualifications.

An income tax of probably 2 per cent. on salaries above $3,500 or $4,000 is favored by the majority of the House Ways and Means Committee. It is estimated that this would afford an annual revenue of $50,000,000, and would remove the necessity of making any increase in other internal revenue taxes.

The reviews for the week of the Dun and Bradstreet mercantile agencies are the most encouraging in months. Both declare that the turn of the tide has come. There has been a distinct improvement in business generally, and particularly in manufacturing. There is some increase in actual transactions and a decided improvement in the one of trade.

The question presented by the situation in Hawaii is reopened in a sensational manner, and it is probable that by the action of Minister Willis, under his official instructions, the deposed Queen has already been restored to her throne.

In a report to the President, dated October 18, Secretary Gresham, after reviewing the history of the Hawaiian revolution, declared that the Provisional Government there was virtually established by the United States intervention, that the treaty should not again be sent to the senate, and asks: "Should not the great wrong done to a feeble but independent State by an abuse of the authority of the United States be undone by restoring the legitimate Government? Anything short of this will not, I respectfully submit, satisfy the demands of justice."—Courier-Journal.

Editor Ches. H. Taylor, of the Boston Globe, is a level-headed man, and writes as follows about the recent elections:

"The result of the election Tuesday simply repeated political history.
Following great National Republican victories in our time that party has been divided on the distribution of the offices and other questions, put up week after week and there, and has been badly whipped many times. The financial stringency led the business men of the country to call for the repeal of the Sherman act. If the Senate had voted as promptly as the House did confidence would have been restored at once, and business would have improved in a great degree. When the Senate finally acted it was too late to do any good. It is clear to every man of sense in the country that our form of popular Government is a failure when the Senate of the United States does not have a rule by which the majority of its members present can record a vote when ready to do so, that it is a failure so far as the Senate is concerned. The sounder such a rule is adopted the better. The result indicates that the Democratic party should take prompt and conservative action on the tariff. Probably the country will not have adjusted itself to the change by next fall, and the logic of our political history indicates that we must look for further Democratic reverses next year. Such reverses can only be avoided or reduced to a minimum by the exercise of the greatest wisdom and courage. In the third and fourth place, the Democratic party should be able to have been widespread, and the Democratic party will be able to fight the next National Campaign with every sym-ment against a change of Administration in its favor."

In Memoriam.

The brother of Flat Gap L. J. de-No. 616 Laying, been suddenly alarmed by the knock of death at the door of the lodge, on the 25th of Oct., 1899, the master convenes the lodge in emergency communication for the purpose of paying the last sad tribute of respect to our deceased brother, Ethel Travis Wil-and the church until death. As a man he was honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellow men, as a citizen he was loyal and respected by all who knew him. The community and mass here can mourn his loss with his relatives.

The lodge adopted the following preliminary and resolution:

Whereas, L. J. has passed the supreme Architect of the universe to call from his labors upon earth, and leaving behind him a wife and three children, we, the lodge, do hereby resolve that we will do our utmost to aid his widow and children in their bereavement.

WEDDED.

Last but not least among the pretty weddings which have occurred in Louisville was that of Miss Vera Eves and Mr. Wm. T. Ferguson which took place at the M. E. Church last Wednesday morning. So far as we can learn it is the first chrysanthemum wedding ever had here. Other features which were out of the ordinary in Louisville weddings were the little girl bridesmaids and the singing of an appropriate song instead of the usual wedding march. All these new features were very attractive too.

The church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, all the various shades being very tastefully mixed. A large arch covered with chrysanthemums stood at the front of the pulpit elevation, and the background visible through the arch was a solid mass of the flowers. From the center of the arch swung a wedding bell of white chrysanthemums, and at each side, suspended over the aisle, was a circle of the flowers in the center of which hung an initial letter—"E" in the entrance, "V" and "F" in the exit.

Notwithstanding the early hour (7 a.m.) for which the wedding was announced, the church was well filled with guests before the appointed time. The signal which told the audience that the bridal party had arrived was the sound of the organ under the skillful touch of Miss Gertrude Stonebraker in an accompaniment to the sweet voice of Mrs. L. S. Johnson in the beautiful and appropriate ballad, "Call Me Thine Own."

Six little white-robed bridesmaids marching in twos first made their appearance, and were followed by the bride and groom, the minister. Reaching the pulpit the couple took a position back of the arch and facing the congregation. Three bridesmaids stood on each side. Rev. J. S. Cox then made them husband and wife, using a choice ceremony, which was delivered in his impressive style. A prayer in which the party knelt was a part of the ceremony.

The music was then resumed and the couple marched out of the church without waiting congratulatory. They were driven to the depot and boarded the 7:30 train, bearing the true wishes of everybody. They went to Cincinnati for a few days.

The little girl who played their parts so well as bridesmaids were Heloise Thomas, Hattie Lee Snyder, Della Snyder, Mabel Butler, Thirza Delossett and Jean McClure.

The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of brown, and the groom was dressed in black.

This is a worthy and deserving young couple. They are both consistent members of the M. E. Church and are very much respected by everybody. The bride is a young lady of refinement and good education, and the groom is a young man of the highest honor, and is diligent and capable in business. He has been in the employ of the railroad and express company at this point for a long time.

The following is from the Army and Navy Register, of Oct. 28th, in a communication from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. It explains itself:

The first social gun of the season was fired last evening by Lieutenant W. O. Johnson, bachelor, scholar, soldier and gentleman of the old Kentucky school, who entertained a party of 16 distinguished people, or rather caused them to entertain each other by a progressive conversation, in which the 16 guests were divided into "fours," (two ladies and two gentlemen each). These groups of four, harmoniously arranged, were first permitted to discuss the subject of "the weather, and amusements suitable thereto." At the end of the 15 minutes a bell was rung by the host and the two gentlemen in each group of four progressed to the next group of four, their "right and rear," the ladies remaining seated. The next "talk" was for 10 minutes on "Music and the Saw Stage" (not the Pickford vehicle of uncertain speed, but the dramatic article kept in the Open House). Then the ladies were allowed to progress in the opposite direction; and so on at short intervals through the subjects "What is the best Age at Which to Marry?" "Profanity and Other Bad Habits," and "Where Are We At?" After this an unlimited time was allowed for the discussion of a very dainty and luscious spread, during which all found their voices and appetites. "Tucker" and "Old Virginia" were then danced by all present, ballads were cast to decide which lady and which gentleman were the most charming conversationalists, and then the partying. Next!

There is no doubt about the correctness of the result shown by the investigation mentioned below in regard to the village postoffice: "One of the postal experimenters made by Mr. Wamumaker when Postmaster General is shown by Assistant Postmaster General Jones' report to be a failure. This is free delivery in small towns. Experience has proved that the average village would rather go to the postoffice to get its letters and gossip about politics than have his mail delivered at his door. Another of Mr. Wamumaker's theories, rural delivery of mail, is shown to be utterly impracticable."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Mrs. P. B. HALL, 217 Genesee St., Lockport, N. Y., says:

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a croup, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was

Nearly in Despair, and had almost decided to shut up all night in my easy chair, and presume what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of the preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."
